I am not a coin collector so the tests are a bit beyond me. I did enjoy reading the history of the coins.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Highly RecommendedBy William Weston BrayVery thorough analysis of this unusual medal and the circumstances surrounding it. A must for the collector of Karl Goetz medals.3 of 3 people found the following review helpful.

Commemoration of Death: The medals of the Lusitania murdersBy Joe BerkGreg Burns' new book is impressive and it is clearly the definitive source on medals commemorating the Lusitania medals. There's quite a story here, starting with the author's almost accidental initiation of interest on this topic, extending through his becoming an expert on the Goetz medals, and culminating in the creation of what is an outstanding reference. Greg's writing is superb. It's easy to follow and you feel as if you're hearing the author tell the story as you read this work.I'm not a numismatist, yet I found the book captivating. Well researched and richly illustrated with superb macro-photography and historical artwork, I found the book to be intellectually stimulating and visually arresting.Burns' Commemoration of Death is destined to become the "go to" source on both the Lusitania medals and events surrounding the Lusitania's sinking. This is a well crafted and superbly illustrated work.

An examination of the most infamous medal of celebrated Munich medallist Karl Goetz: the history of its wartime origins, photographic guide to the different varieties and reproductions, value information, other medals relating to the Lusitania, and related ephemera (boxes, pamphlets, postcards, etc.). Full color, 194 pages.

About the AuthorGreg Burns currently serves as editor of "The California Numismatist," the award-winning joint publication of the California State Numismatic Association (CSNA) and the Numismatic Association of Southern California (NASC), and has been a coin collector for about 35 years. His collecting passions are the satirical medals of the German medallist, Karl Goetz, medals relating to WWI in general, and he has a longtime fascination with Canadian colonials and bank tokens.
