Great ! ! !

Like peering through a plate glass window of a Woolworth's, Kresge's or J J Newberry's, this engaging book reveals the wonderful array of dime store merchandise that awaited homemakers and gardeners during our country's Depression era. Consumers in those years needed a convenient, affordable place to purchase necessities for the home -- and dime stores had it all. Illustrated with over 300 images many of them drawn from original catalogues and advertisements, this book is a virtual shopper's paradise of Depression era goods from the pretty to the practical: colourful dinnerware, cookware, salt and pepper shakers, cookie jars, linens, home decor, stationery, furniture, needle-work, sewing notions, holiday decorations, gardening products, even supplies for the family pet. For all those who treasure memories of their local five-and-ten-cent store, this book is a must. Current values for all items are included.
