Carlo Frati : Dizionario Bio-bibliografico Dei Bibliotecari E Bibliofili Italiani: Dal Sec. XIV Al XIX (Italian Edition) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Dizionario Bio-bibliografico Dei Bibliotecari E Bibliofili Italiani: Dal Sec. XIV Al XIX (Italian Edition):

Reprint of the 1933 edition. Hardbound. Oversized Octavo. 2 p. l., [iii]-viii, 705 p., 1 l. Firenze, L.S. Olschki, 1933. Carlo Frati's Dizionario covers book collectors, librarians and most anyone who was involved in book and manuscripts collecting from the Renaissance to the 19th century, among them numerous famous scholars, especially from the 18th century (for example, Antonio Muratori and Girolamo Tiraboschi), who also held library offices. Here, too, the primary literature is given less emphasis than secondary literature, which derives from the most remote sources. An index of place names refers to the libraries described in the articles. Originally published in 1933, Frati's work remains on standard work on this subject. The treatment is exhaustive with exhaustive references to related works. There are approximately 6000 citations to other works. Besterman 921.
