Liz Arthur : Embroidery 1600-1700: At the Burrell Collection before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Embroidery 1600-1700: At the Burrell Collection:

This work offers a view of the fine embroidery collection of the 17th century held by the Burrell Collection in Glasgow. For conservation reasons, only a few of the embroideries are on display at a time, so this illustrated book helps bring a relatively unknown collection to a wider public.
